CATÁLOGO GERAL
GENERAL CATALOGUE

Em 1962, Josep Maria Sedó Vallvé aluga um galpão em São Paulo. Nessa época, a resina era usada apenas como componente para fabricação de produtos em fibra de vidro, é colocada em foco por J. Vallvé. Como um mago, inicia sua alquimia misturando resina com metal, madeira e acrílico, acrílico e metal. A estética do material começa a ser explorada muito além do desempenho técnico. Os recursos eram praticamente inexistentes. Através de um método empírico J. Vallvé começa a desenvolver sua própria metodologia. Cria suas próprias lixadeiras, tornos, máquinas operatrizes e de acabamento, assim como toda a tecnologia para processamento da resina.

In 1962, Josep Maria Sedó Vallvé rented an ordinary shed in São Paulo. At that time, the resin that was only used as a component for the manufacture of fiberglass products, was put in focus by J. Vallvé.

As a magician, he begins his alchemy by mixing resin with metal, wood and acrylic, acrylic and metal.

The aesthetics of the material begins to be explored far beyond technical performance. The resources were practically nonexistent. Through an empirical method J. Vallvé begins to develop his own methodology. He creates his own sanders, lathes, machining and finishing machines, as well as all resin processing technology.

1962

J. Vallvé creates the company Nacroplex. Objects of decoration, modern knobs and handles in scintillating resin with mother-of-pearl reflections.

1978

Opening of the first store, the "Cristal Banho" - reference in bathroom Project of the time. Launch of collections of accessories, furniture, seats and other pieces always innovating in design and material.

O desenho da cuba Vidas Secas é inspirado nas regiões áridas do nordeste brasileiro.
O balde representa a dificuldade do acesso a água e o longo caminho para obtê-la. A grelha interna remete à terra rachada dos fundos de açudes já secos, simbolizando a esperança do povo nordestino.

Design Brasileiro assinado por Gustavo Bertolini.

*The Vidas Secas washbasin design is inspired by the arid regions of northeastern of Brazil.
The bucket represents the difficulty of access to water and the long way to get it. The internal grid refers to the cracked earth of the bottoms of dry reservoirs, symbolizing the hope of the northeastern people.*
