HOW WE CAN HELP YOU IMPROVE YOUR SPACE

ANALYSIS

To get a better understanding of your specific workplace needs, we take a comprehensive analysis of key factors effecting the way you work. In cooperation with you, we'll assist you to identify and create a more sustainable, productive and creative workplace.

People – Technology – Place – Time

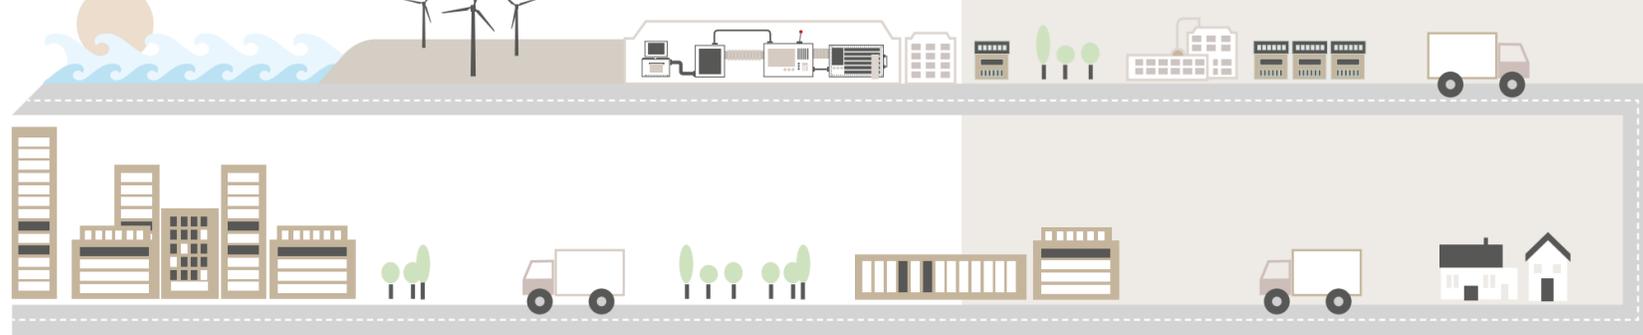

WORKSPACE PLANNING

One size fits all is a thing of the past. There is no general solution to the new workplace – the office of the future is as individual as each company and as varied as the people who work there. We strive to create inspirational working environments that support, energize and enhance the space for all future changes.

PRODUCTION PROCESS

Furniko's unique ingredient is our ability to tailor products to suit our client's requirements. Product designs and production preparation is performed with software converting Auto Cad files directly into CNC machine software. It is particularly useful for bespoke designs, enabling a short production preparation time and total reproducibility of elements while retaining their highest quality.

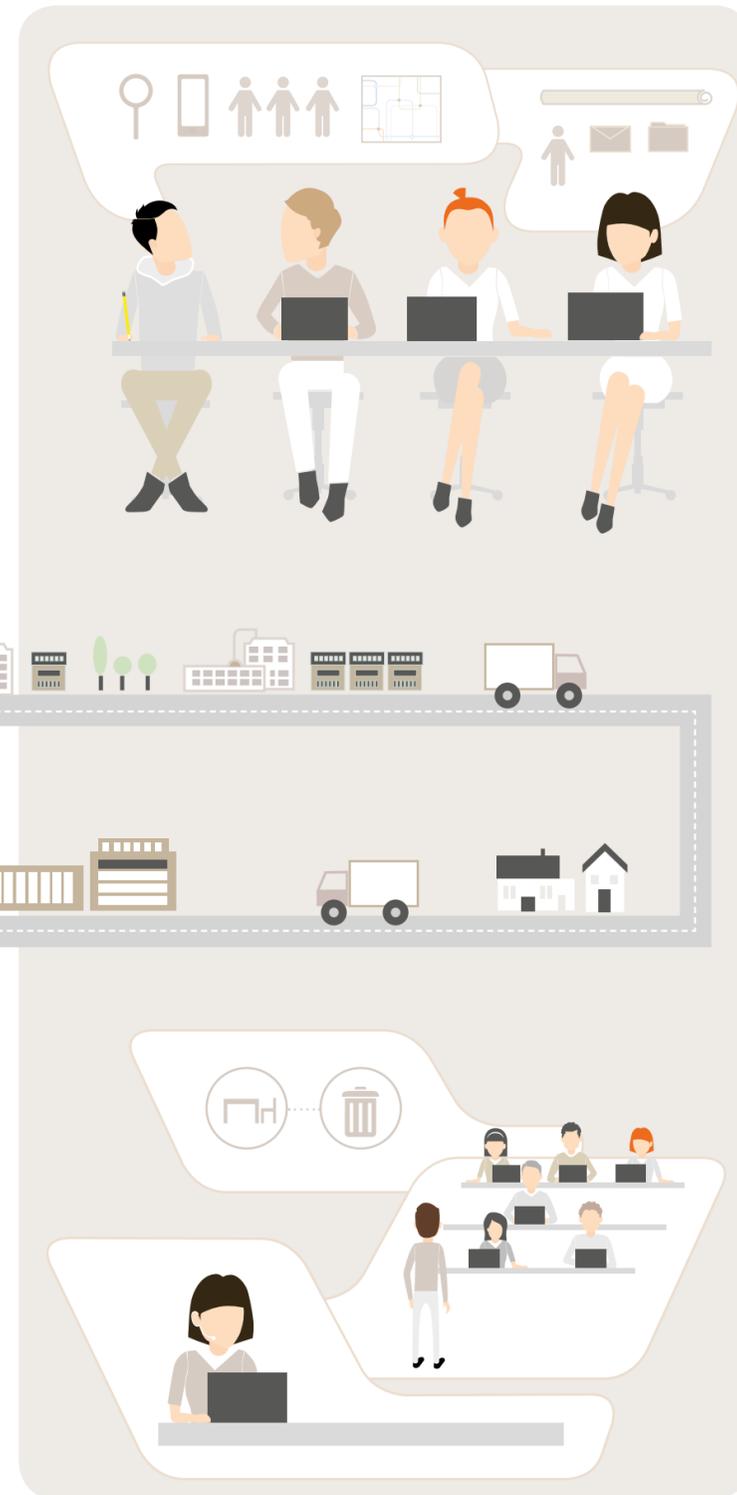

PROJECT COMPLETION

The successful delivery and installation of furniture has a great impact on any project. Our logistics and installation are handled directly by our inhouse team of professional project managers. We carry out complex works of all sizes in Poland and internationally.

CUSTOMER SERVICE

Our dedicated service teams are always on hand to offer full post-project servicing. We pride ourselves on our dedicated customer service, bespoke product design and guaranteed delivery programmes.

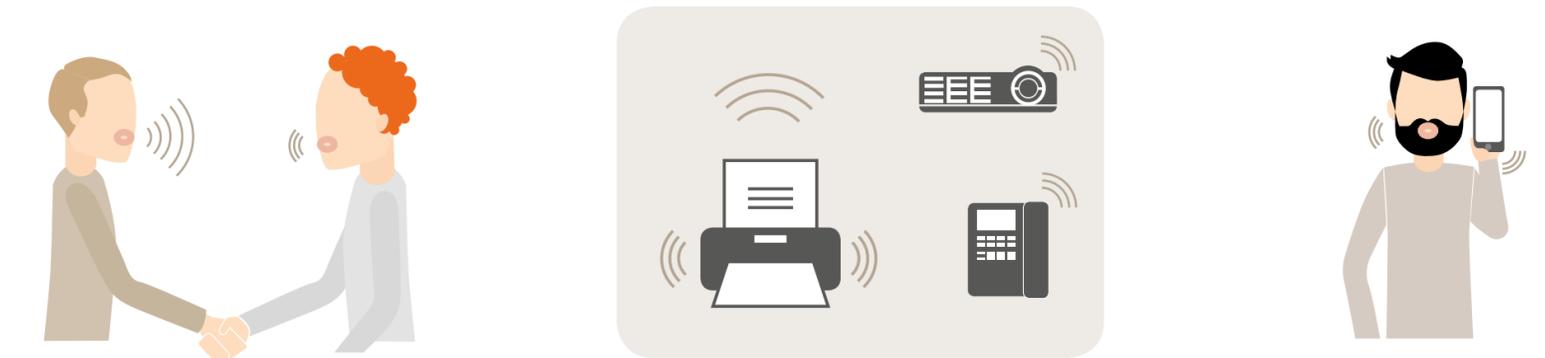

Create a productive ecosystem with agile workspaces.

People working together in an office form a community that requires an efficient ecosystem to unleash all their potential. The traditional workspace is transforming into custom-fit areas enabling workers freedom to work where, when and how they want. Recent study shows that empowering employees to choose their best space to perform different tasks results in increased wellbeing and satisfaction regarding workspace among 98%^{1} of examined employees. Office cohesion promotes the balance between spaces that inspire collaboration and spaces that encourage concentration. Our approach to agile work environments enables businesses to provide their employees with a greater connectedness.

WE CREATE SPACES TO COLLABORATE AND NETWORK, FOSTER CREATIVITY, FLEXIBILITY AND FOCUSED CONCENTRATION

Good office acoustics guarantee its efficiency

The everyday office buzz is a combination of employees communication with each other, office equipment and sounds coming from the outside. In open plan environments, work areas of different characteristic are mixed together which can intensify the lack of control over the volume of sound and result in noise. Noise is one of the main problems reducing productivity and increasing stress in workplaces around the world. A study carried out by the University of California shows that employees are distracted every few minutes and the time required to come back to previous task takes approximately 23^{2} minutes. We at Furniko have embraced the increasing interest in sound absorbents and a more efficient working environment.

AGILE WORKSPACE

1 RECEPTION

The reception is a place, which creates an image of the office, it is a corporate business card.

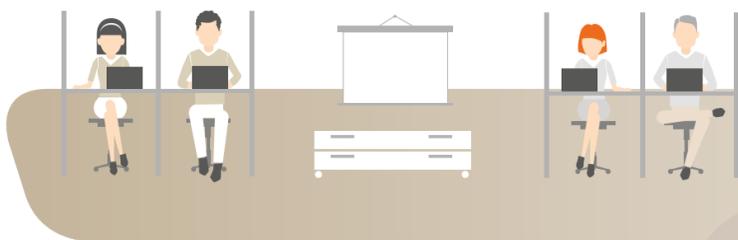

2 TEAM WORK

Place where exchanging information and collaborating is fundamental. Spontaneous and agile interaction aids in swift decision-making. Team workstations enhance fluid communication and leads well to project focused needs.

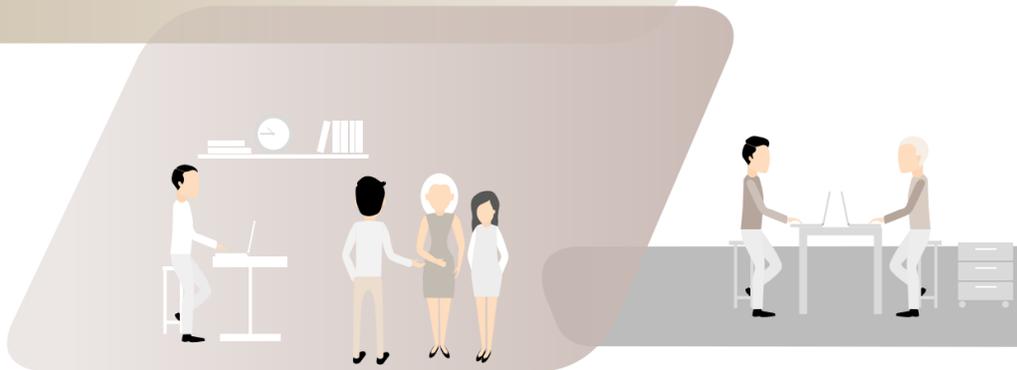

3 QUIET SPACE

All good ideas need to grow. Quiet spaces are designed for individual work, places for retreat and isolation. Concentration areas offer spaces with few or no interruptions – for isolated working, confidential discussions or relaxation and inspiration.

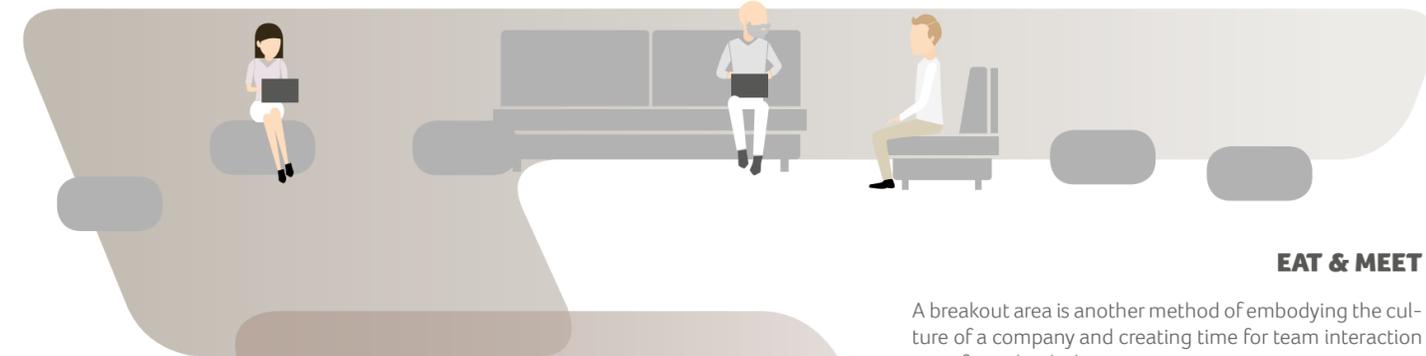

4 INFORMAL MEETINGS

Diverse informal areas provide opportunities for standing or sitting meeting with built in IT solutions.

5 REGENERATION

In every office intensive intellectual work needs to be balanced by a dose of relaxation. A break in surroundings different for the rest of the office can calm the mind and regenerate the forces for further work.

6 EAT & MEET

A breakout area is another method of embodying the culture of a company and creating time for team interaction away from the desk.

7 PLANNED MEETINGS

Client or company meetings are just a few of the functions that formal meeting spaces serve.

8 TECHNICAL POINTS

Perfectly blended in office surroundings, separated acoustically and visually, these vital areas are always close at hand.

A GOOD FIRST IMPRESSION CAN WORK WONDERS.
