

JAIPUR RUGS

Jaipur Rugs is built on the fundamental principle of conserving ancestral knowhow and connecting rural craftsmanship with global consumers. The cornerstone of the brand's business philosophy is to use the age-old art form of handmade carpets as a tool to bring prosperity into the homes of 40,000 rural artisans of which 80% are women. By transforming this ancestral craft into sustainable livelihood, Jaipur Rugs is able to, both preserve and propagate this rich heritage passed down through centuries. The next generations of weavers and artisans are once again learning this craft and prospering through it.

Two plates and the purpose:

a tale by Sulochana Chaudhary

In the early 1990s, Nand Kishore took a leap of faith, leaving Rajasthan for the tribal belt of Gujarat. He stayed in a small humble home in a village, with the bare minimum to make ends meet, with just two plates. His purpose was clear; to reach out to the hearts of the villagers, nurture them, and bring their creative potential to the world.

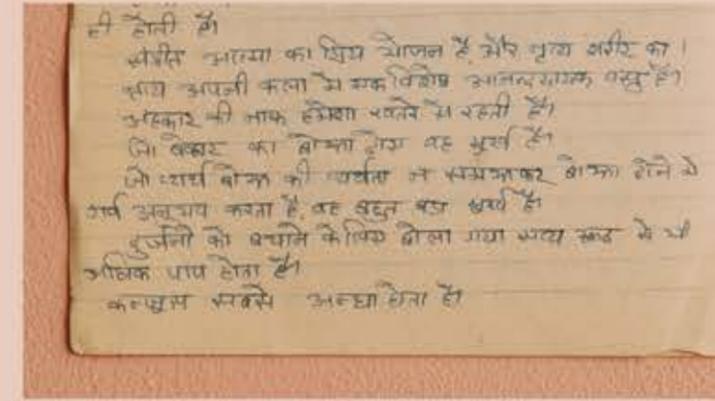

The communities there were in pain, weary of outsiders exploiting them, fearful to accept the aid of even their own national government. To show them love was to spend time with them, listen to them, learn their ways and be a part of their society. In one such instance, he invited the village leader to his home for lunch, along with his companions. With the most modest of intentions, Sulochana, Nand Kishore's wife served them lunch, one after the other, as there were only two plates.

"The purpose of connecting hearts was so clear that the social courtesy in serving food didn't seem to bother our guests" - Sulochana.

Over the years, Jaipur Rugs was able to skill-train and bring independence to the largest network of highly skilled artisans in the tribal belts of Gujarat, helping them stand alone in a place where outsiders are still not welcomed with ease.

The dream that became Jaipur Rugs

Nand Kishore, a young student on the verge of completing his Bachelor's of Commerce in Churu, Rajasthan was abruptly called out in class by a strict college professor. He rose nervously, wondering if he made an oversight. Pulling out Nand Kishore's test copy, the professor read out loud, "What is the definition of business? Business is next to love. It is the creator and preserver of civilization." Then, looking towards the class he said, "This young boy will become a different businessman one day!"

Aakar

by Kavi

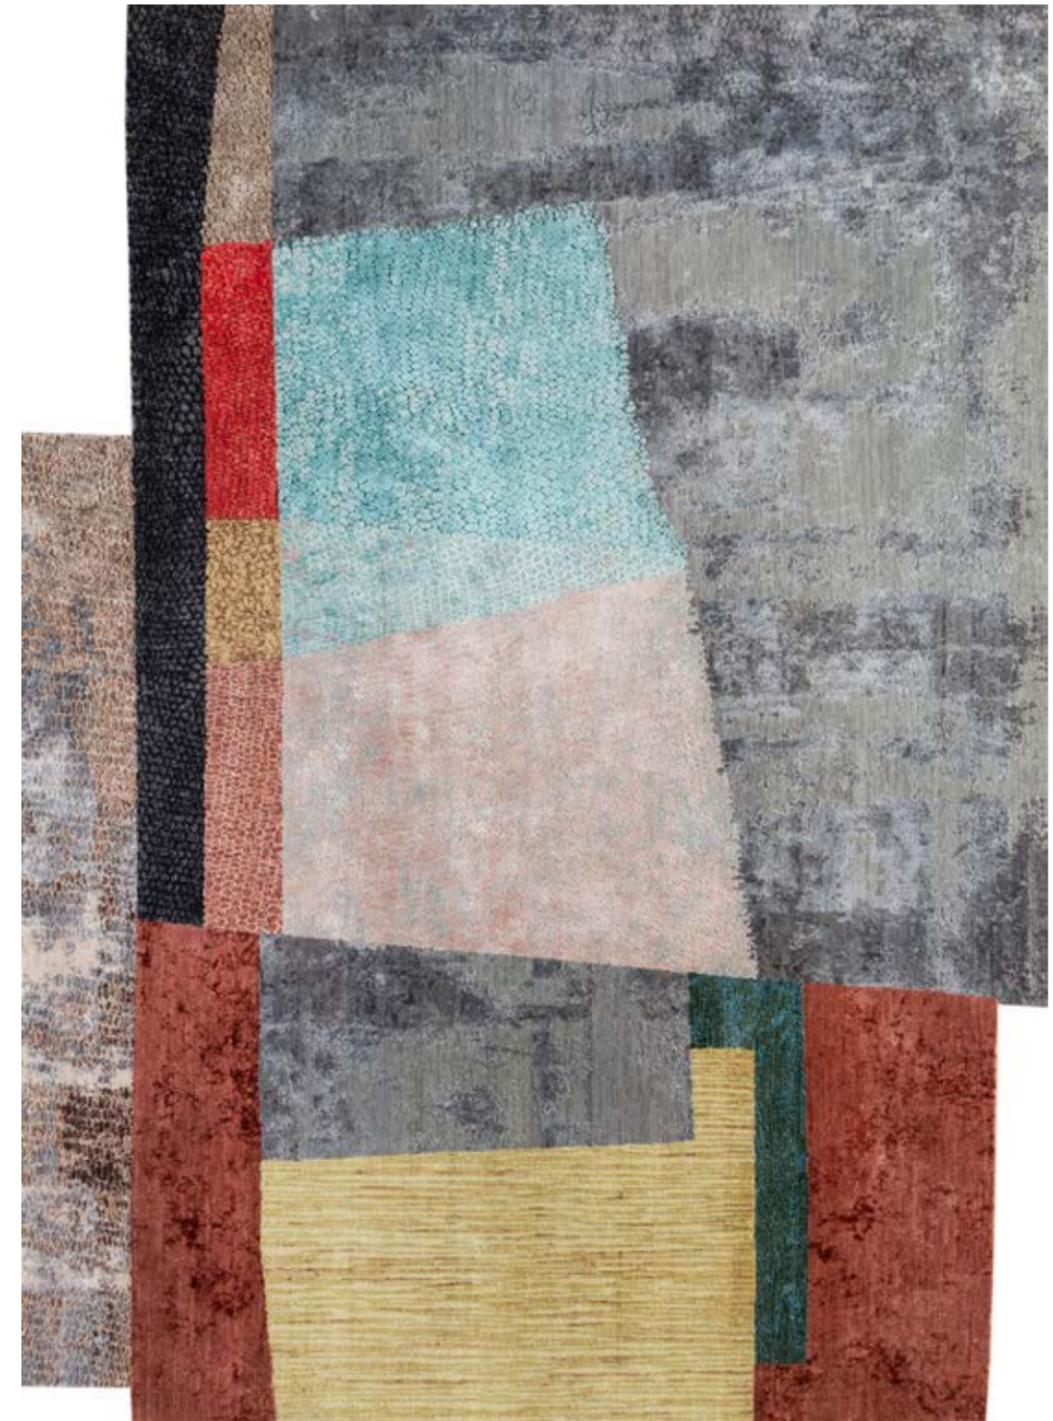

Aakar means "shape" in Hindi Language. Aakar puts together varied sizes and shapes of contrasting elements in distinctive colors. Playful pinks, bright yellows, heightened blues and boundaries of black amalgamate together for a design inspired solely by the distinctiveness of fusion, frolicsome to the core.

Jaipur

Wunderkammer

by Matteo Cibic

Inspired by the Italian Designer's visit to Jaipur, Rajasthan comes this vibrant handcrafted collection. Cibic has imbued his creative universe with peculiar architecture and colours of the city, and taken inspiration from ancient paintings and the architectonic sundial to design this collection.

The collection is named after Wunderkammer, also known as cabinet of curiosities that came into existence in mid-16th century Europe. These room-like cabinets were repositories for all types of wondrous and exotic objects. The surreal carpets in this collection give you a peek into the new and contemporary India while helping in promoting a socially inclusive and sustainable business model.

mastering work from home since 1978

Even as factories shut down globally due to the pandemic, weavers at Jaipur Rugs continued working on long-term production orders from across the globe. In these times, the people-centric business model of Jaipur Rugs allowed the weavers to self-isolate and work out of the safety of their homes without needing to socialise. This helped them avoid losing their income in difficult times.

Urban Pause

by Kavi

Urban pause is a collection inspired by the unrushed quality of natural process, a blessing in the fast paced modern world. It is a moment of pause and reflection, a means of traveling in time, through its simplicity in design and ample room to ponder over. The veins in marble, vapors of water, day transitioning to night or a damp wall moulding with moisture over time, each piece brings about the delicate details observed in natural forms. From instant gratification to maturing slowly over time, move away from the chaos of the day to day through Urban Pause.

Faulty Blend

by Kavi

Faulty Blend is an artist's effort to play with the brush strokes. Blend, paint, then start again, hiding layer after layer of color below. Soft pastels turn into deep strokes, as color is manipulated for its resistance to the artist. It is merging, yet not. Dive deep into the layers of the interior. Experience the art of amalgamation through Faulty Blend.

Hidden

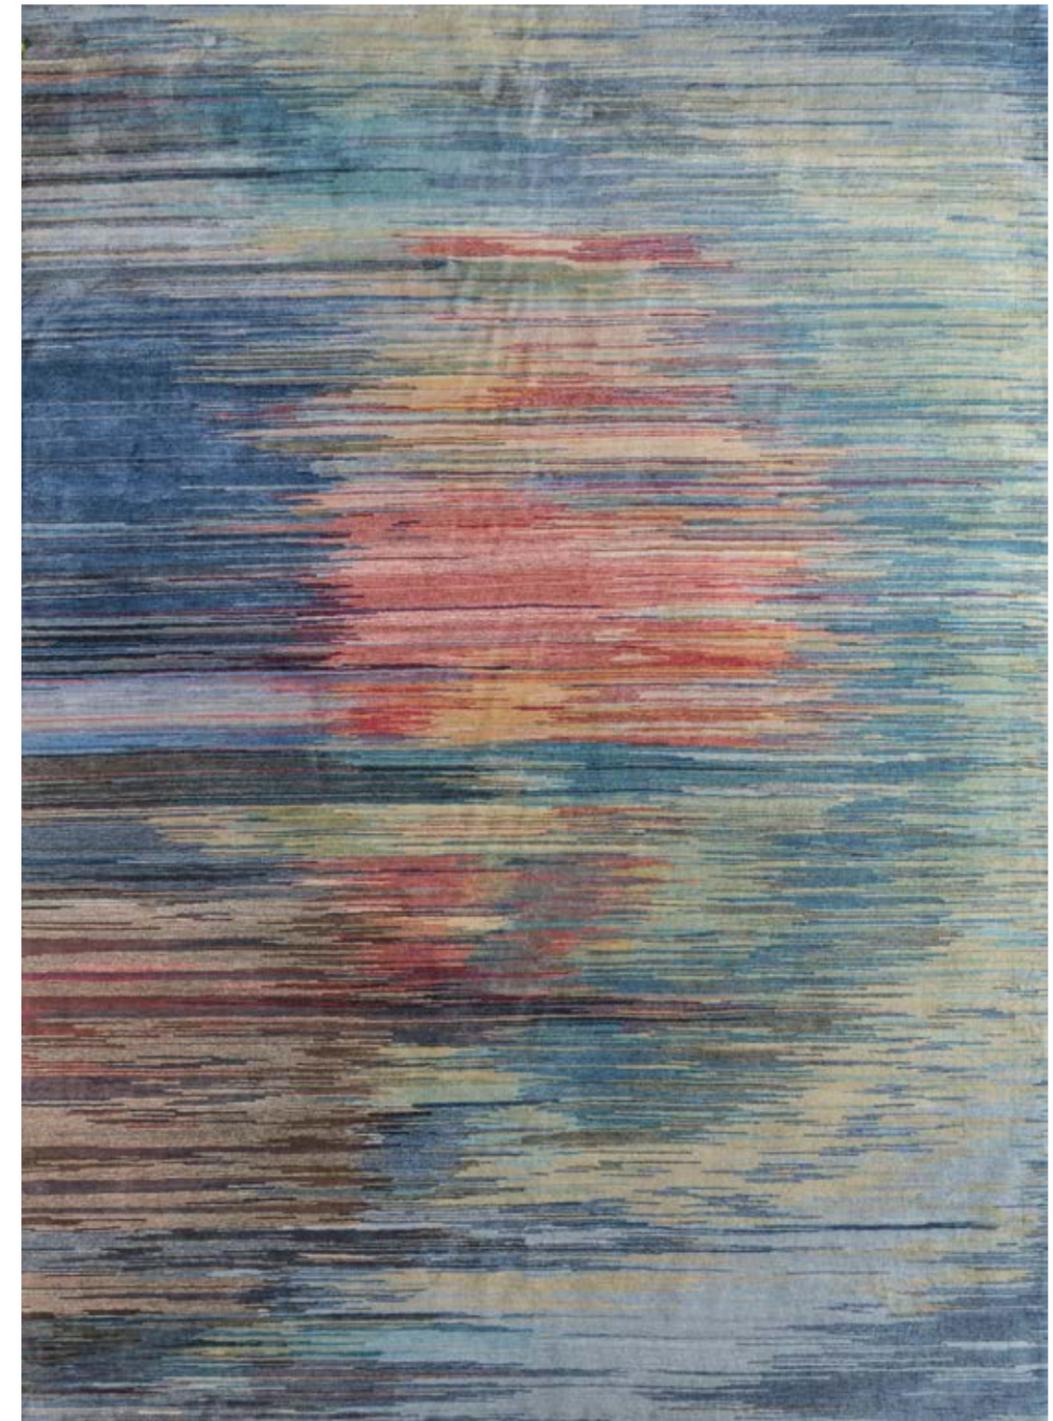

by Kavi

The destination is important but the journey captures the heart. The destination is stationary and leads to monotony while the journey is ever changing and ablaze with dynamism.

Hidden is inspired by the unnoticed beauty of experiences and processes while they are undergoing development and are still in motion. The mystery of not knowing the outcome and end result is what dominates every pattern and artful representation of this collection. Each design depicts the chaotic element of a journey, expressed through a palette of grays, blues, whites and mahogany, sometimes infused with occasional twirls, otherwise embraced in their basic form.

Unstring

by Kavi

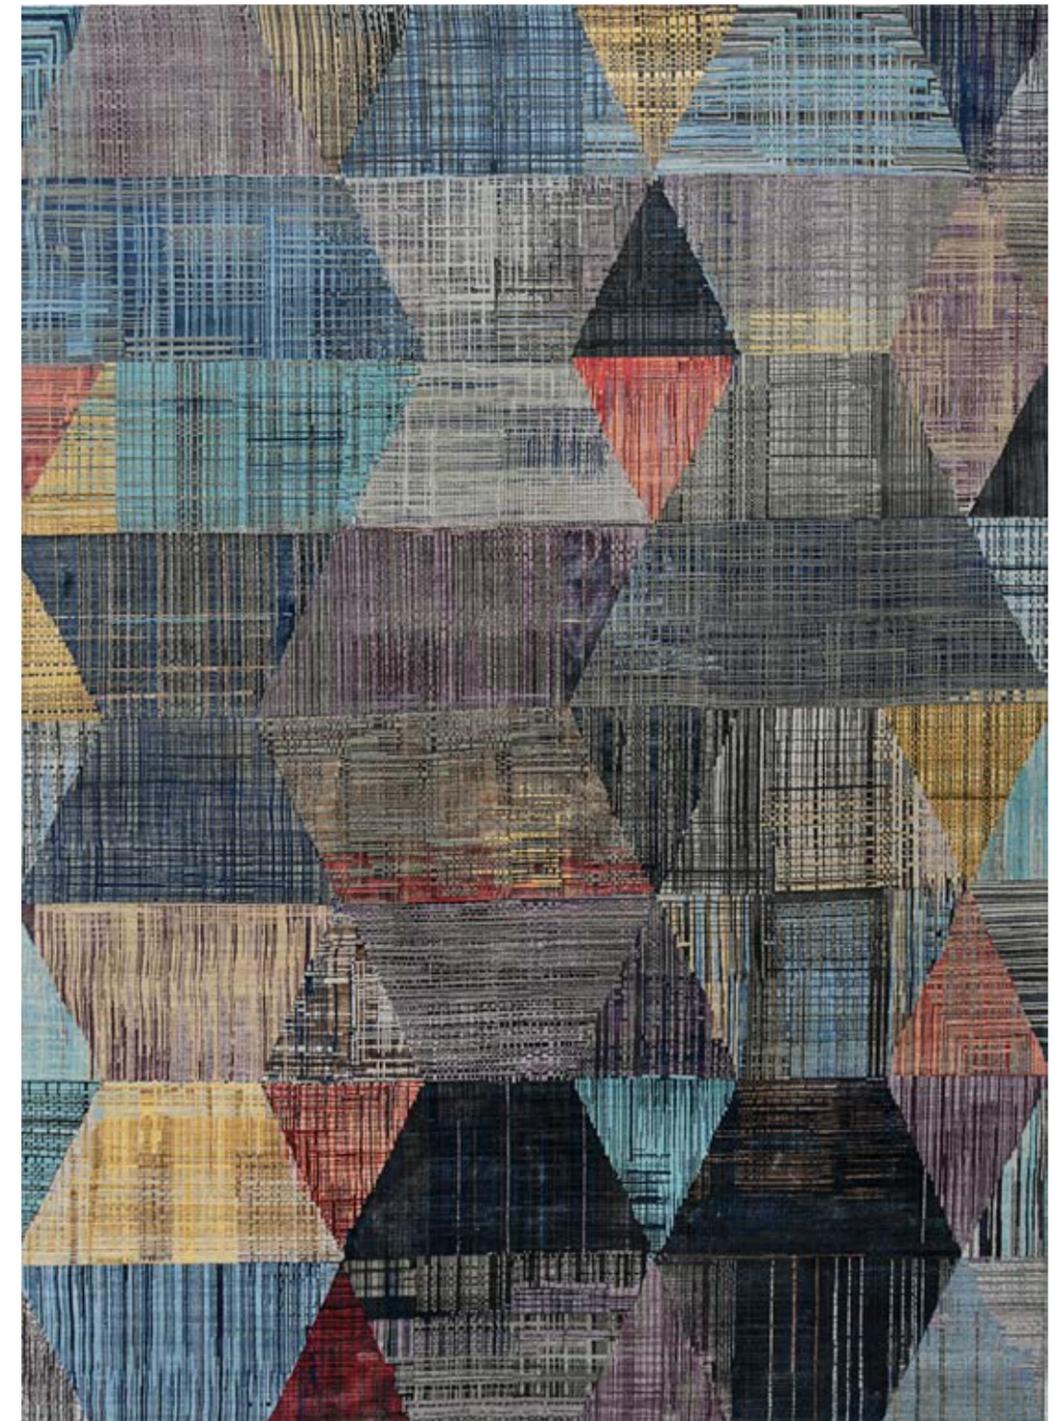

Unstring is a collection that captures human interaction with various processes in a textile studio. The designer weaves, stitches, embroiders, cuts and pastes in the present moment; uncertain of what the future holds. As hands pick at random, poetry of patterns emerge with the passage of time. Discover the voice in motion with Unstring, where the designers and weavers let go of all ties to tie knots, with no strings attached.

Each rug in the collection has been created by hand weaving nearly 200,000 asymmetric knots with the finest hand-carded, hand-spun wool and bamboo silk in every square meter.

Project Error

by Kavi

Project Error interprets the concept of misprints – nature’s interruption of mechanical duplication to create unique pieces of overlooked art. Drawing inspiration from the crossroads of nature and machine, new, spontaneous, and unique designs emerge. This collection is the salvaged result of what happens when the ordered precision of machines is sidelined by happy accidents.

These errors are volitional and are gateways of discovery that see beyond coordination – human or mechanical. Each design in this collection is an original, unintentional expression, as seen through the eyes of nature.

Chaos Theory

by Kavi

Imagine a world of unrestricted spontaneity, experimenting in a laboratory with nature as your partner, creating together shapes and forms of life in serene motion.

Infusing natural materials, classic color palettes, and the distinctive work of artisans, Chaos Theory is inspired by both the purity and chaos in nature, tracing the beauty in its seemingly cluttered patterns. Natural forms in transition were studied for inspiration and recreated, with the help of batik, into unrestrained artwork on unexplored mediums. Each rug in this collection is created by hand-weaving nearly 100,000 asymmetric knots of the finest hand-carded, hand-spun wool, and bamboo silk in every square meter.

Weavers' Art Reserve

The Weavers' Art Reserve takes our favourite one-of-a-kind rugs from the Manchaha (Artisan Originals) collection and reimagines them in new colour palettes. The rugs are recreated with minimum editing, preserving the essence and life story of its artisan.

Whether it is a couple in love weaving tales of secrecy, or neighbours weaving in competition of one another, the collection effortlessly captures human emotion in full dimension. The hidden stories embedded in each rug of this unique collection can take hours to unearth.

Paying homage to the life and inspirations of the artisan, this collection allows the rug to adorn more than one home while sustaining their one-of-a-kind essence.

"Me & Parvati, my wife, have been weaving from home since years. I always used to think that I was the better designer. When we started making this rug, I insisted her on following my design. But she started making a 'leheriya' pattern on her own. As it turns out, everyone in our neighborhood loved her designs better than mine. That day, I gave up my ego, and started following her design. This rug is a result of the genius that she is."

Manifest

Manifest is a collection of rugs that interpret the widely recognized Moroccan designs into an aesthetically modern sensibility. Bearing an all-wool build of Afghan descent, the rugs command as much space in a rustic Indian home as they do in avant garde Norwegian den.

Concoction

by Shantanu Garg

Concoction, a collaboration between Jaipur Rugs and Shantanu Garg, weaves together the architectural saga of India. Modernism and nostalgia are juxtaposed in this collection with its designs anchored in the romantic charm of diametrically opposite styles. The collection highlights cross-cultural amalgamations, including graphical inspirations from the Bauhaus movement and a distinct Ottoman influence.

Lacuna

Reverting to traditional roots while staying true to modern sensibilities, Lacuna offers memories of bygone days; half-forgotten now. High-knot count carpets with classic, old world patterns are brought into the modern age through the latest dyeing and finishing techniques. The collection brings forward intricate processes of ancient craftsmanship, which are passed on from generation to generation. Each rug in this collection is one-of-a-kind, made with the finest wool and silk, meticulously produced by skilled artisans.

no longer in exile:

enabling reverse migration

By preserving the dying art of carpet weaving and making it a viable livelihood alternative for rural men and women, Jaipur Rugs reversed the flow of migration across 600 villages. Having found sustainable livelihood in their ancestral craft many weavers didn't see the need to migrate to cities and add to the ever ballooning clutter.

Jaipur Rugs achieved 36% of reverse migration through its unique business model.

the ever-ballooning clutter.

Someplace In Time

Someplace In Time is a collection, whimsically reviving an era lost in vintage design & craft with an emotion transcending existence. The collection is a magnificent display of an alternate evolution merging heritage and modern lifestyle. The wool, born from the relentless Afghani, bearing the harsh region for generations past, and a conviction to survive. The yarn, groomed and adorned by tradition, uncarded, spun on a latoo by the hands of the ancients. Its colors raw and unseparated, dyeing the yarn only within reach. The knots, each a hand-crafted journey, preserving heritage for the future.

Tether the past, present and future through rugs aged in certainty. Travel through a journey, Someplace in Time.

Biscayne

The Biscayne Collection is attention to detail in practice. Made entirely of wool, its yarn is hand-sorted for a soft, uniform texture and hand-spun to match the skill and quality in antique rugs. It culminates for an aged look, warm and fresh in feel, and an endurance for generations. With each piece a display of motifs and colours, the collection pays homage to the qualities of traditional artistry.

Weave Friction

by Kavi

Weave Friction is a collaborative effort between the Kavi design studio and the carpet weavers of Rajasthan. The collection is inspired by original rugs that are instinctively designed and woven by weavers on the loom. An unfiltered expression of a weaver's life is woven into patterns knot after knot as they work together to create art. Kavi sees this as an amalgamation of human relationships that make way to create unique pieces of art. She takes their evolving context and its reflections under one magnifying lens – creating a blend of raw aesthetic with modern sensibilities.
