DESIGN

1840

François Baptiste Duvivier set up a saddlery trade business in Joussé in the Vienne region of France, the starting point of today's expertise.

1978

Jean-Marie Duvivier, 4th descendant, started an upholstery workshop in Usson du Poitou in France initiating the haute couture sofa creation.

1989

Creation of the « Duvivier Canapés » brand.

2000

Launch of the first collection in opulent design using thick leathers, including the iconic Maillol sofa.

2005

Opening of the first company owned showroom in Paris and development of Duvivier Canapés' distributor network in France and worldwide.

2005

Invention of our own patented suspension system SBD (dynamic double bearing capacity suspension), increasing our sofas' comfort.

Opening of Duvivier Canapés first showroom in Shanghai, China.

2006

Duvivier Canapés is awarded the "Entreprise du Patrimoine Vivant" label by the French Ministry of Trade in recognition of its excellence in French craftsmanship.

2016

Opening of our Duvivier Canapés showroom in Tokyo, Japan.

2017

Aymeric Duthoit purchases the company bringing a new energy and implementing a diverse strategy building on the renewal of the collection and developing the brand's visibility internationally. Duvivier Canapés new ambition is to become a worldwide leader within the furniture industry.

2018

When tradition embraces new technology, a symbol of our new vision: the development of our 3D app on Apple Store and Google Play allowing you to personalise any model of the collection in 3D and augmented reality.

Launch of our new collection JULES, designed by Charlotte Juillard which received a tremendous welcome at its launch.

Leather edge polishing

Leather edge polishing is an ancient technique which provides an aesthetic yet solid finish to the edge to edge seams of two pieces of leather.

The edge of a cut piece of leather has a fibrous appearance (depending more or less on whether the tanning is vegetal or mineral).

The polishing will join and solidify the two edges and make a single durable and decorative edge.

For an edge polishing that is smooth, strong, durable and uniform, several coatings of stain are applied with each layer being pressed with a hot iron.

The final stage of manually rubbing beeswax with a cotton cloth into the edge gives an alluring shine which enhances the appeal of our sofa.
