Who is Sergio?

Well first and foremost I am a chef! It is not my ambition to be a designer but sometimes in life you run into people which are as passionate about their profession as you are with yours. With a career that expands more than 25 years of cooking and renovating and developing new restaurants I know a thing or two about furniture.

"First and foremost I am a Chef!"

"The beauty of the chair lies in it's humble character."

WHY FURNITURE?

There is always this complex quest for finding matching furniture. Somewhere on that quest I met the lovely people of Wildspirit who offered me their network and skills for this collaboration where I am very happy with.

WHAT IS THE LINK BETWEEN FURNITURE & FOOD?

This link is as complex as it is simple. Furniture is a part of the whole picture, on every level.

It could be the memory of the best grilled squid you ever tasted somewhere along the streets of Hong Kong sitting on a plastic chair and a wobbly table or a fine dining evening where the scenery and the level of comfort contributed to the overall experience.

WHERE DID YOU GET THE INSPIRATION FROM FOR THE DESIGN OF INK?

My inspiration came from the unpretentious nature of Zeeland. The beauty of the chair lies in its humble character. It stands firm and proud and its defining details are there to be observed. This one does not go unnoticed.

WHY THE NAME INK?

I kept the name close to my heart. To me INK represents uniqueness and individuality while all the unique and inked individuals belong to some sort of global tribe. It's to blend in and to stand out. That is INK to me.

WHY WILDSPRIT? AND DESCRIBE IN A FEW WORDS YOUR PARTNERSHIP WITH WILDSPRIT.

One thing I learned along the way is that to grow in your ambition is to trust on people who can get you there. In my daily work I rely on professionals who believe in something and with Wildspirit it is no different. I hope to have made a positive contribution to their brand, this collaboration for sure made a difference to me!

"INK represents uniqueness & individuality."
