Ianificio carotti 1408 - 1990

1408 - 1900
Una delle cartiere più importanti nel panorama dell'industria cartaria del Paese, prima della famiglia Montefeltro poi della Cappella del SS. Sacramento di Urbino.
1408 - 1900
It was one of the most important paper mills in the domestic industry. It first belonged to the Montefeltros, then to Urbino's Cappella del SS. Sacramento (Holy Sacrament Chapel).

1930-1949
Il Ianificio supera le difficoltà della 2° guerra mondiale producendo principalmente divise per l'esercito italiano, tra i clienti più importanti Fiat e l'Alfaromeo.
1930-1949
The wool mill managed to get over the difficulties of the 2nd World War and mainly produced uniforms for the Italian Army. Fiat and Alfaromeo were ones of its most famous customers.

1970-1990
Il Ianificio Carotti viene fortemente colpito dalla modificazione delle condizioni di mercato e dal passaggio all'industria moderna. La tessitura viene sospesa definitivamente nel 1977/78. Il Ianificio chiude i battenti all'inizio degli anni '90.

1970-1990
In 1976 Carotti's wool mill was particularly struck by the changes in the market conditions and the industrial revolution. It definitively gave up weaving in 1977/78 and it put up the shutters in the early nineties.

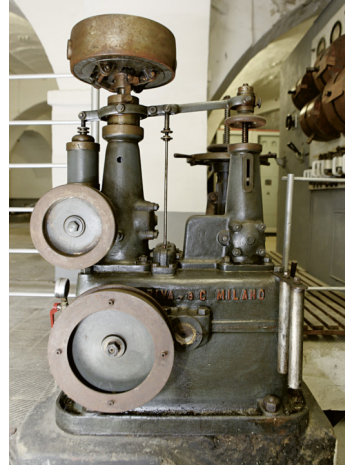

1915
Gli immobili vengono acquistati da Augusto Carotti tra il 1915 ed il 1919 che installa negli edifici della cartiera un setificio e Ianificio.
1915
From 1915 to 1919 Augusto Carotti bought the paper mill buildings and used them as silk mills and wool mills.

1950-1960
Lo stabilimento conta oltre 300 operai ed è famoso per le attività di socialità organizzate al suo interno.
1950-1960
The wool mill employed over 300 workers and it was famous for the social events taking place at its premises.

1980-1990
Renato Carotti e Pagliardini Giovanni decidono il riacquisto dell'intero opificio e decidono insieme di riavviare la vecchia centrale idroelettrica, la prima del Metauro con antichi macchinari recuperati, gli stessi che fecero l'Italia industrializzata del dopoguerra.

1980-1990
Renato Carotti together with Pagliardini Giovanni decided to take over the whole mill and start again and old water power plant. This is the first plant built along the Metauro river where the old reconditioned equipment, which turned Italy into an industrialised country in the years after the Second World War, is now fully functioning.
