RUGS

Jaipur Rugs is a family business strengthened by the purpose of protecting ancestral know-how and connecting rural craftsmanship with global consumers.

By placing the human aspect at its core, the company has grown to become the largest network of artisans in India. It uses the age old art form of handmade carpets as a tool to bring prosperity into the homes of 40,000 rural artisans of which 80% are women. Founded in 1978 by Nand Kishore Chaudhary with just two looms, it now has over 7000 looms and sells in over 60 countries. Today the company creates contemporary works of art by collaborating with creative talents capable of showcasing this ancestral craft with a new vision.

An early Jaipur Rug

The first feature

Rug warp in making, in late 70s.

It all began with some core values established by Nand Kishore Chaudhary who started a business merging the principles of compassion & dignity with artisanship. With a vision to create business with a purpose, he weaved a unique socio-economic model focused on providing sustainable livelihood to marginalised artisan communities in the remotest villages of India, at their door steps. Over the years, this simple idea evolved into a goal of bridging the gap between the two ends, the weaver at the grassroots and the urban consumers, by starting a dialogue. We aim at celebrating the unsung artisans from rural India, share with customers a glimpse of the human side of weaving -a dying art, and showcase to the world that real craftsmanship is emotional.

Aakar

by Kavi

Aakar means "shape" in the Hindi Language. Aakar puts together varied sizes and shapes of contrasting elements in distinctive colors. Playful pinks, bright yellows, heightened blues and boundaries of black amalgamate together for a design inspired solely by the distinctiveness of fusion, frolicsome to the core.

Hidden

by Kavi

The destination is important, but the journey captures the heart. The destination is stationary and leads to monotony while the journey is ever changing and ablaze with dynamism.

Hidden is inspired by the unnoticed beauty of experiences and processes while they are undergoing development and are still in motion. The mystery of not knowing the outcome and end result is what dominates every pattern and artful representation of this collection. Each design depicts the chaotic element of a journey, expressed through a palette of greys, blues, whites and mahogany, sometimes infused with occasional twirls, otherwise embraced in their basic form.

Unstring

by Kavi

Unstring is a collection that captures human interaction with various processes in a textile studio. The designer weaves, stitches, embroiders, cuts and pastes in the present moment; uncertain of what the future holds. As hands pick at random, poetry of patterns emerge with the passage of time. Discover the voice in motion with Unstring, where the designers and weavers let go of all ties to tie knots, with no strings attached.

Each rug in the collection has been created by hand weaving nearly 200,000 asymmetric knots with the finest hand-carded, hand-spun wool and bamboo silk in every square meter.

Project Error

by Kavi

Project Error interprets the concept of misprints – nature’s interruption of mechanical duplication to create unique pieces of overlooked art. Drawing inspiration from the crossroads of nature and machine, new, spontaneous, and unique designs emerge. This collection is the salvaged result of what happens when the ordered precision of machines is sidelined by happy accidents.

These errors are volitional and are gateways of discovery that see beyond coordination – human or mechanical. Each design in this collection is an original, unintentional expression, as seen through the eyes of nature.

Anthar

by Kavi

Anthar is a collection where each rug has been instinctively designed and woven by weavers on the loom. Themes and patterns evolve at their whims and fancies. From three weavers who do not get along, creating abrupt rhythms to a couple falling in love as they weave in harmony, the collection captures beauty in the mundanities of everyday life. They cohabit, co work and create art as an expression of their lives.

Kavi sees this as an amalgamation of human relationships that make way to create unique pieces of art. She takes their evolving context and its reflections under one magnifying lens – creating a blend of raw aesthetic with modern sensibilities.”

Amoli

Taking the transitional rug concept a notch further, the Amoli collection keeps classic tones and patterns but erases and blurs wool and silk, symbolizing the ever-fading memories the world has to offer. Each design taking a traditional motif and taking it into a new direction, while the sheen of the silk shines through the quiet tones of yellowed tans and blushed reds, all perfectly hand-knotted.

Kibrast

Kibrast seeks its inspiration from Turkish designs and patterns. The Turkish patterns are highly influenced from Greeks who preferred more geometrical motifs than human or animal figures on rugs. The erased design of the rug gives it an ancient look.

Chaos Theory

by Kavi

Imagine a world of unrestricted spontaneity; experimenting in a laboratory with nature as your partner, creating together shapes and forms of life in serene motion.

Infusing natural materials, classic color palettes, and the distinctive work of artisans, Chaos Theory is inspired by both the purity and chaos in nature, tracing the beauty in its seemingly cluttered patterns. Natural forms in transition were studied for inspiration and recreated, with the help of batik, into unrestrained artwork on unexplored mediums. Each rug in this collection is created by hand-weaving nearly 100,000 asymmetric knots of the finest hand-carded, hand-spun wool, and bamboo silk in every square meter.

Floret

Traditional carpets are dipped in moonlit palettes of soothing silvers to create the Sterling Collection. Subtle textures are brought alive for modern homes through these transitional carpets that revive traditional motifs through modern colors.
